問題3の解答欄

象が人間の手を借りずに絵画的な絵を描く動画を見て驚いた。というのも、筆者は以前チンパンジーの芸術能力を研究し、チンパンジーは原始的ではあるが自らの意思で抽象的な絵を描く能力があるが、絵画的な絵を描く能力はないことを調べていたからだ。そこで真実を調べてみると、各象は毎回同じ絵を描いていた。つまり自らの意思で新しい絵画的な絵を描くといった芸術的才能ではなく、一連の芸だったのである。しかし、高い精度で白地に絵を描くというこの芸はかなりの知性と並外れた筋肉感覚が必要で、むしろその筋肉制御に驚いた。将来、より科学的研究の応用で象は自発的に自らを表現し、自らの意思や工夫で新たな絵を描けるようになるだろう。(300字)

問題4の解答欄

(Example1)

The rates of working women in 1978, 1998 and 2018 are about the same between the ages of 20-24. In 1978 and 1998, the rates declined in the age group of 25-29, and started to rise remarkably at the ages of 30-34. This means that most women were at home when their children were small.

The rates for working women of 2018 are almost the same from 20-24 to 55-59. This means that women today tend to continue to work after marriage or childbirth until they retire.

I think women's working conditions have improved significantly, and hope it will be easier for them to assume the right place in society.

(Example2)

This graph shows how women changed their life cycles. In the past, it was natural for women to quit working after getting married. In the survey of 1978 the rate of women who left their jobs was the biggest in the age group of 25-29. However, in 1998 the biggest rate of women leaving their jobs was delayed to the 30-34 age group. That is probably because of late marriages and child-rearing. In 2018, it moved to still later and the rate who left their jobs was much smaller. This would be because women today are less likely to get married or have babies.
